NICOLE MASON OAR EEO/DIVERSITY PROGRAM MANAGER

ABOUT NICOLE MASON

Nicole Mason is the EEO/Diversity Program Manager. She has served in this position for 13 years. Nicole is the first African American woman to serve in this position in the organization's history. In addition to being a trailblazer in her career, Nicole is also a trailblazer in her personal life. She is an ordained minister and has been the first woman preacher to grace many pulpits.

Nicole has been recognized for her ministry work with women by Maryland Governor, Larry Hogan, with the prestigious Governor's Citation. She is also an international best-selling author and has won several awards including the 2018 50 Great Writers You Should Be Reading Award. She was recently published in the Chicken Soup for the Soul® Book Series.

Born with a spirit of advocacy, Nicole has always spoken up for those who either couldn't or wouldn't speak up for themselves. She absolutely loved Perry Mason and knew at 9 years old that she wanted to be a lawyer! Nicole brings her advocacy to every space she finds herself in.

Nicole has a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Divinity from Howard University. She also has a Doctor of Jurisprudence from the University of the District of Columbia David A. Clarke School of Law and a Master of Law from George Washington University School of Law.

Nicole is married to her college sweetheart. They are the proud parents of three sons. Nicole is the proud "MaMa" to her first "SugarBaby" born on February 4, 2021!
